Preface

In order that the memory of these short years will forever remain fresh and undimmed with time, we offer this PEAN to the Academy.

Dedicated with affection and respect to

E. S. Wells Kerr, Dean of the Academy, who cares

for the big things and for the little things;

and because he cares,

the Academy continues a place of order and of strength.

Senior Class

WE, the class of 1933, have come to the end of our prep school days. Many of us came to Exeter three or four years ago, and as "preps" looked to the lordly Seniors for important decisions, leadership, and any bit of notice which might be bestowed upon us. Since that time we have grown in many ways. We have come to appreciate the true value of friendship; we have learned the meaning of victory and defeat; and we have prepared for life in countless other ways. Exeter has offered us much in the way of tradition and democracy, two of her most respected symbols. Seemingly she has given all in return for nothing; but we should not feel that we have failed in "keeping our trust." During our Senior year we have, in spite of our mistakes, advanced our school to a higher plane of dignity. As Seniors we have been able to take a leader's part in the institution of the Harkness Plan; and thus we have promoted the New Exeter while still retaining the admirable qualities of the Exeter our fathers knew. Exeter has meant a great deal to us. It will mean more as the years pass and we recall all the incidents of our years here—close contests with Andover, interesting events of school life, and participation in school activities.

We have passed one milestone in our life. Our school days are over, and we are about to step into college life. Exeter has taught us how to be men, but we must now prove that we are men. Starting once more at the bottom of the ladder we must show that we are capable and fit to be recognized no longer as the frivolous youth of the pre-depression era, but as the sensible, clear-headed man of today. Problems lie before us, and we cannot disregard their presence. College therefore should carry its full significance of importance to our minds as we realize that opportunities await us in the immediate future. Just as we have been regarded as leaders by the underclassmen of Exeter, so will many of us be regarded by the people of tomorrow. But to justify any kind of respect we must not under-estimate the importance of our college career. Exeter has helped us toward our first goals and achievements. Any other success we may attain in the future will depend solely upon our endeavor. Thus we enter upon life grateful to Exeter, loyal to her traditions and hopes, encouraged by our happy life here, proud of the past, and expectant of the future.

Upper Middle Class

THE graduating class is now handing the responsibility of the Academy over to you, the class of 1934. This control in itself is not to be regarded lightly, but there is something more that you should strive for than the mere leadership of the school. During the past year you have been more or less in the position of an observer who has ample opportunity to criticize but not reform or correct. Next year, however, you will take our places. Reforms and changes may be introduced with the completion of the Harkness Plan, your duties may increase as Seniors, so that you may find these duties almost too much for you to master. But throughout all this you should remember that the future of the Academy depends largely upon what you do as the leaders of the school. Nevertheless, you should not take your responsibility too seriously. By this time you probably realize that there is a great deal of benefit to be obtained in extra-curricular activity. Thus, we would urge you to carry on the debating societies, to run the publications, and to manage the clubs in a better manner than this year. Here tradition lies, and here you should maintain it. The buildings and grounds of the Academy, the studies offered, or the athletic opportunities presented are only the bare outline of what Exeter is. The other factors tend to maintain its dignity and strength.

This year has been marked by some changes instituted by the Harkness Plan, and next year with the Plan practically completed you will probably be influential in making improvements of all sorts. When you are considering reforms, remember what Exeter stands for in the eyes of the country. It is not just another school: it is a leader among schools. See that one year from today it is more firmly entrenched as the symbol of sensible progress.

LOWER MIDDLE CLASS

WILLIAM BLISS, 3RD
President

GEORGE F. ALTER
Vice-President

JOSEPH T. GIFFORD
Secretary

Lower Middle Class

IN the past two years, Lowers, you have passed through a period of minority in the Academy, and are now prepared to assume the responsibilities of the Upper Middle Class. You have outgrown the "Preppish" actions characteristic of the Junior Class. You have begun to realize the importance of your studies, and have done well in them. Some of you have taken part in athletics, some have tried out for the publications, and some have joined the various clubs of the school.

In your hands lies the future of these organizations, and to uphold them as they have been upheld in the past is up to you. In spite of certain failings, you have done very well as a whole.

Your Upper Middle year will be one of great importance to you. You will be held in high esteem by the underclassmen; it is your responsibility to prove to them that you merit this respect. Only by conscientious effort in the fields of activity toward which you are inclined will you be able to do this. If your interests are athletic, try out for the teams and stay at it until you succeed. If your interests are literary, the publications and the debating societies offer excellent opportunities which you should not pass up. In the year to come your chances to secure positions for your Senior year will come; take advantage of them. The near future of the Academy lies largely in your hands, and the preservation of its ideals and traditions you must carry out to the best of your ability. If you successfully carry out this trust, you will be able to recall your Upper Middle year with a feeling of pride and satisfaction. In behalf of the class of 1933, THE PEAN wishes you the greatest success during the next two years.

Junior Class

ON leaving home and coming to Exeter, you were probably going away to boarding school for the first time. You found that you seemed out of place, and that it was difficult to adjust yourself to the school customs. You did not take interest in the various activities, and for that reason, school life was rather dull. The men in school who had accomplished something worthwhile, either in the extra-curricular activities or in athletics, seemed far above you. Now, however, that you know the school, you should come back next year with the firm intent of succeeding either in making a publication board or some athletic team. With all the opportunities offered, you ought to make good and become one of the men who seemed so far above you. Finally, prove that you no longer deserve the name "Prep," and that you are worthy of the class of '36.

Debating

AT the beginning of the past school year, the lagging enthusiasm for debating at Exeter took an unprecedented jump, and once more the art of argumentation bade fair to regain its former high position in student esteem. The new interest was due partly to the presidential election, partly to the new equipment in the form of the debating room in Phillips Hall, and partly to the interest in debating of certain alumni.

Enthusiasm, at any rate, led to the separation of the G. L. Soule from the Golden Branch, which two societies had existed as one for nearly ten years. Rivalry between the organizations was keen throughout the year. Several original programs were presented by each club in addition to the regular weekly debates. The G. L. Soule gave a mock trial at which a hundred and fifty people were present; immediately following this, the Golden Branch gave a well attended though not so successful convention.

Debating with other schools continued as usual, and three outside debates were held. A team composed of Nightingale and Dorson lost to a Dartmouth Freshman team in a rather poor debate. Shortly afterwards a team made up of O'Keefe, Danser, and Bauer, with Stephenson as the alternate, journeyed to Harvard and gained a hard-won decision from an experienced Freshman team. The season was climaxed by the victory of the Exeter speakers over Andover. The subject for debate was "Resolved: That the United States should immediately recognize Soviet Russia." The Exeter team, composed of Captain O'Keefe, Danser, and Stephenson, with Abel as alternate, presented a brief for the negative which proved impervious to the attacks of the Andover debaters. It is to be hoped that debating at Exeter will enjoy many seasons as successful as the one concluded with the past year.

Lantern Club

THIS year The Lantern Club has continued in the role of the school's outstanding literary society, despite the unfortunate illness and consequent resignation of its president, Arthur J. Draper.

On Tuesday evenings during the winter term men of distinction in various branches of the literary world addressed the club. They included Mr. Edward K. Scott, an exchange master of English, Mr. E. T. Katzenbach, Mr. Arthur B. Perry, and Mr. Leon M. Pearson. The first of two outstanding evenings was that on which Mr. John Corbin, formerly dramatic critic of the New York Times, spoke on George F. Kaufman, author of the recent dramatic successes, "Of Thee I Sing," and "Dinner At Eight." On the second, Mr. Geoffrey Parsons, editor of the Herald Tribune, gave a speech on Technocracy to a particularly enthusiastic audience.

The informal atmosphere of Sunday afternoon teas of the past two winters—so essentially a part of the Lantern Club life—was this year successfully carried over to the easy gatherings after the lectures, during which every one had ample opportunity to chat with the speaker.

For the first time the club has been extensively used this winter by members for week-end suppers. And as usual the formal season was happily concluded by a banquet given for the old members by those elected during the year.

The Exonian

THE Exonian, founded in 1878 by three undergraduates, Balch, Mariett, and Needles, consisted for the first few years of its existence of poems, editorials, and cartoons collected by its editors. After about ten years, however, the paper began to broaden its field and print up-to-date and interesting news which dealt solely with the Academy. It was at this time that it was first published semi-weekly. This policy of devoting the columns of the paper to Academy news only has been more or less rigidly followed since the founding of the Exonian; but during the past year the editors, feeling that the Academy students were also interested in other prep schools, sought to extend the scope of a College Notes column that was instituted two years ago. This extension met with the approval of the student body, which was most generous in its attitude towards the paper. In the editorials the paper dealt openly with every subject worthy of discussion, and although the communications received were perhaps slightly less numerous than formerly, they were, on the whole, well written and expressed the sentiments of the school. As the board went into office there was a noticeable lack of interest shown not only by the students who were members, but also by the remainder of the student body; in the fall, however, the results of the labor of those in charge became apparent, and by adopting a slightly more liberal policy a new spirit was noticed on the campus concerning the development of the paper. It is felt, moreover, that the Exonian has continued to uphold its reputation as being one of the foremost preparatory school papers in the country, and also that the news matter has been presented in an intelligent, though at times forceful style. Through the co-operation of the student body and the untiring efforts of the board the paper has been able to pass through a critical year more successfully than could be even hoped for in the early fall. THE PEAN wishes to take this opportunity to congratulate the Exonian board on its work during the financial crisis, which it faced and endured so well.

The Monthly

THE Phillips Exeter Literary Monthly was founded in 1886 and has existed in its present form during the past fifteen winters. This year, as in years gone by, the Monthly has maintained its high standard. It has continued the vehicle for the work of those of literary interests and talents in the Academy, covering as it does both poetry and prose. And in no other year has the enthusiasm of the contributors been so keen, a fact witnessed by the wide support of those outside the editorial staff itself and by the corresponding range of subjects.

Parallel to last year's "Back from College" department, to which contributed every month a recent graduate of the Academy, was a series of articles of even more universal interest dealing with the various professions as careers and written by such men as Dr. G. Canby Robinson, Medicine; Mr. F. T. P. Plimpton, Law, and Mr. Thomas W. Lamont, Business. These articles were designed principally for those of the student body who are considering what they will do on finishing their education. They were designed to give these fellows an idea of the various professions as seen by men already well launched in them.

This year, also, the Monthly has continued on a sound basis and despite the existing financial situation, has succeeded in doubling its circulation, a circumstance which merits hearty congratulations.

President	RICHARD F. FRENCH

Secretary	ROBERT B. COONEY
Treasurer	EDWARD H. RIDDLE
Orchestra Librarian	LEAVITT S. WHITE
Glee Club Librarian	DONALD F. HENDRIE
Director	MR. LANDERS

THIS year the Musical Clubs, inspired by the success of the previous season, decided upon an even more ambitious program of activity. Four trips were taken during the course of the year, which was also featured by one concert at Exeter, the sponsoring of the Band, and the management of the annual Fall Dance. The Clubs, moreover, were of material aid to the School Jazz Orchestra. The first concert was presented in the chapel shortly before the end of the fall term, to a large, enthusiastic audience, and added greatly to the prestige of the Orchestra and Glee Club. Early in the winter about ninety members of the combined clubs gave the second recital at Bradford Academy in Bradford. The program was very well received, and it included selections sung together with the Bradford Choral Club. This was the first time that the Exeter Glee Club had ever been a part of a mixed chorus, and the result was so satisfactory that a similar procedure was used in later concerts. Towards the middle of March another trip was taken, this to Rogers Hall in Lowell. Here the Glee Club and Orchestra combined in the concert, which was featured by the playing of the latter. Shortly after this trip, the Glee Club presented in conjunction with the Radcliffe Choral Society of Radcliffe College the most popular program of the year, in which the selections sung by the mixed chorus were especially successful. In the spring the Glee Club presented a concert at Beaver Country Day School in Chestnut Hill. A mixed chorus was once more a feature of a well-received recital. The next trip of the year was taken to Andover, where the annual joint concert was given to an enthusiastic audience. Several weeks later a concert was given at Exeter by the Deerfield Glee Club together with the Academy Glee Club. The combined Clubs performed in their usual fine manner to climax the second season under Mr. Landers' direction. The trips to Bradford Academy, Rogers Hall, and Beaver also included the customary dances and receptions; and a reception was given by the Clubs to the Radcliffe Choral Society immediately following that concert. Besides presenting these programs during the course of the year, the Musical Clubs were in charge of the activities of the P. E. A. Band and the Jazz Orchestra, "Mamie's Music Masters," and sponsored the Fall Dance, which was remarkable for its popularity and music. The enthusiasm with which all these enterprises were undertaken by the Clubs under Mr. Landers' leadership was especially pleasing, and it is felt that next year will bring an even more acute appreciation of music to the average student.

Dramatics

THE Dramatic Club, under the able direction of Mr. Barrett, has enjoyed an unusually successful season. Over two hundred boys reported for the preliminary tryouts in the fall term, from whom those were selected who were to act in the plays, and those who were to handle the technical end of the productions. This year, for the first time in its history, the Dramatic Club has enjoyed having a room of its own, fitted out for trials and practice. This room is in the basement of the Academy Building, and has proved very useful.

Shortly before the Christmas vacation the first presentation of the year was given in the Academy Chapel. The play "Captain Applejack," an Arabian Night's adventure in three acts by Walter Hackett, was very well received on two successive nights by capacity crowds. The acting, scenery, and the management were without exaggeration worthy of a professional troupe.

About the middle of the winter term, an innovation was tried which proved highly successful. Three short plays were given, without admission charge. The first was a modern satire written in Shakesperian style, entitled "Two Gentlemen of Soho," and written by A. P. Herbert; and the second two, presented on the same night, were "The Rehearsal" by Baring-Gould, and "The Lost Silk Hat" by Lord Dunsany. These presentations were very amusing, and the acting was excellent.

This year the Dramatic Club is to present a play on the evening before Alumni Day for the amusement of the Alumni as well as the students. This play entitled "The Valiant" by Holworthy Hall and Robert Middlemass, is said to be the most powerful one-act play available within the scope of amateur ability.

All in all, Mr. Barrett and W. G. Coe, president of the Dramatic Club, are to be heartily congratulated for their success this year.

Christian Fraternity

THE Christian Fraternity, now in its seventy-seventh year at the Academy, has completed another successful season. The Cabinet and Mr. Bartell conducted an excellent campaign, and the students responded wonderfully, paying out almost twenty-one hundred dollars to aid the Academy Band, the Rockingham County Y. M. C. A., the Berry Schools, the Hampton Institute, Dr. Grenfell's Mission in Labrador, the Chinese Inland Missions, a Greek agricultural school, and the Seeing-eye, an organization which trains police dogs to act as an eye for the blind.

It also sponsored many enjoyable entertainments that were heartily appreciated by the student body. The Seeing-eye gave a very good lecture on training police dogs to lead the blind, and Guy Murchie, author of "Men on the Horizon," followed with a lecture on his extensive travels. During the winter term, Mr. Scott, with the aid of Mrs. Bartell, Mrs. Linaberry, Mr. Galt, Mr. Landers, Mr. Naylor, and the Glee Club, gave some very interesting talks on the Gilbert and Sullivan operettas. Having given an introductory talk, he lectured on "Trial by Jury," "Pinafore," "Iolanthe," and "Pirates of Penzance." At these talks, known as Christian Fraternity teas, refreshments were served, and in some choruses, the audience joined in the singing. At one of the teas, Mr. Howarth, an excellent violinist, played some fine selections, which were very well received.

Social

Social

IN a Social way, this year was extremely successful, though many of the elaborate details, which have always marked former affairs, were necessarily cut out. The customary Fall Dance, sponsored by the Musical Clubs, was considered as the best dance of the year, and indeed in several years by many of the older students. The committee was fortunate in obtaining the services of the Ipana Troubadors for the usual tea dance and the evening ball, both of which were given in the gymnasium. This orchestra featured a slow rhythmic tempo that proved popular with the guests; and together with the attractive setting, which resembled a harvest scene, the music far exceeded the expectations of all.

The Winter Dance, given by the Senior Council, was also popular, and it seemed a welcome change from the routine of everyday study. Mitchell's Orchestra was engaged by the Council for the dance, and the gymnasium was decorated with the banners used in the Sesquicentennial celebration two years ago. An innovation, consisting of the serving of refreshments from ten to twelve in the basement, was introduced at this dance and proved to be altogether successful.

It was decided that the Spring Dance should not be held this year because of the expense involved, and so the only spring function is to be the annual June Ball for Seniors. An account of this dance must of course be omitted from this issue, but conjectures may be made. Bob McDonald has been obtained by the committee to furnish the music, which promises to be every bit as good as in former years; and judging from the reports the June Ball will fittingly climax the season. The depression naturally cut deeply into the plans of all the dance committees this year, but by sensible economy they were rewarded with a large degree of success.

To the June Ball Girl

Dearest, if I had ten-thousand years
To tell over every glowing charm you own,
Than all the seeds that in the spring are sown
They would be more, but not more than my fears
That I might lose you ere the laggard spheres
Had turned the time that I must be alone,
And lifted from my heart the heavy stone
Your absence lays, and greened the leaves it sears.

Be not too coy, my mistress, death is cold,
And in the grave your beauty dust will be.
Let's pluck our rose before the dew is old;
Crush with a kiss its sweet fragility.
Let every hope within our hearts be bold,
And in a moment bring eternity.

Football

THE football team, led by Captain Chubet, experienced one of the most successful seasons in recent years with a record of five victories and two defeats. Only three lettermen returned, but after the first week Mr. Souders developed a fast, shifty backfield behind a line, which, though lacking in weight, showed great power both on the offense and the defense.

The New Hampshire Freshmen were subdued in the first game, 14-6, but in the two following games Exeter was conquered by the Yale and Harvard Freshmen, 12-7 and 13-0, respectively. In the first of these encounters the Red and Gray led until the last two minutes, while in the second Harvard was held scoreless until the last quarter. The next week saw Exeter roll up a total of seventy-three points against a weak Tufts Freshman team for the largest score since 1914. Exeter then took Worcester and Hebron in its stride, 25-12, and 44-0. The Worcester game was featured by the two touchdowns of the Red and Black, which were scored on successive kick-offs.

Exeter entered the Andover game the favorite and by winning, 6-0, triumphed over her rival for the first time at Andover since 1924. The contest was bitterly fought by both teams, but Exeter seemed to have the advantage throughout except for a brief period in the third quarter, when the Blue carried the ball to the Exeter twenty-seven-yard line. The only score came at the close of the first period. Bilodeau carried the ball over the goal line from the twelve-yard marker after the Red and Gray had been prevented from scoring previously by a penalty. The try for extra points failed. The game was played in the poorest of conditions, since the field was a sea of mud and water. This fact undoubtedly kept the Exeter score down, for she was continually pressing Andover's defense. Great credit is due, however, to the Andover team for putting up such a splendid fight in the face of odds. Captain Chubet, Kidd, and Bilodeau were the individual stars of the game.

THE PEAN takes this opportunity to congratulate the team, Captain Chubet, Coach Souders, Coach Bartell, Coach Blake, and Trainer Murch for the hard-earned victory in which they all had a part. To the 1933 team, Coach Souders, Captain Turner, and Manager Gruening, THE PEAN wishes the greatest success during the next season.

Track

TRACK in 1932 suffered an unsuccessful season in the light of the unusual record of the teams of two previous years. The first meet, on February 6, was lost to Huntington, 50-27. Captain Dineen set a new record in this meet by running the 300-yard dash in 34 seconds. In the B. A. A. Relays, on February 13, Exeter had a fast team, but was handicapped by a slip of the first runner which gave Andover an insuperable lead. On February 20, Northeastern Freshmen scored five first places against three for Exeter, and won $45\frac{1}{2}$ - $22\frac{1}{2}$. In a rather even meet on February 27 Exeter bowed to Worcester Academy with the score 38-30. In the last indoor meet, that with Harvard Freshmen, Exeter lost 74-21. In this meet Captain Dineen bettered his former record in the 300, running it in 33 $\frac{3}{5}$ seconds; and in the 600 Jaffe set a record of 1 minute, 19 $\frac{1}{5}$ seconds.

Spring track was opened on April 30 with a defeat by Harvard Freshmen, 88-38. The following Saturday Exeter nosed out the University of New Hampshire Freshmen, $65\frac{1}{2}$ - $60\frac{1}{2}$. In the Harvard Interscholastic Track Meet, on May 14, Andover beat Exeter 62-41 2-3. During this meet, in which Exeter took four first places, Duffey tied the 100-yard dash record of 10 seconds, set by his father 33 years ago. Exeter won an easy victory over the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Freshmen on May 21, with the score $80\frac{1}{2}$ - $47\frac{1}{2}$. The Dartmouth Freshmen defeated the Academy team 72-54 on May 28, taking nearly all the field events. On Alumni Day, June 4, with perfect weather conditions, Exeter met Andover. In the track events Exeter showed considerable power, scoring 37 points to Andover's 26; but the field events were lost with the overwhelming score of 55 to 8. Lane equalled the 220-yard dash record of 21 $\frac{3}{5}$ seconds, set by Blackman in 1931. Lyman was able to pole vault 11 feet, 2 inches, to win his first victory in his third dual meet.

H. G. Smith, '33, was elected captain for 1933, and R. H. Philbrick, Jr., and E. H. Riddle were elected managers for Winter and Spring Track respectively.

Baseball

WITH only two letter men returning, prospects were indeed dubious as winter practice started in the Thompson Cage for the 1932 baseball season. Although the infield developed rapidly, there was a noticeable lack of capable pitchers when the outdoor season began in the spring. In spite of this the team defeated Huntington, Norwood, Holy Cross Freshmen, Yale Freshmen, Cambridge Latin, Worcester, Hebron, and Boston College Freshmen in the preliminary games, while losing to strong aggregations from Harvard, '35, St. John's, St. Anselm's, Tufts, '35, and Brown, '35. As in the previous year, the bright spot of the preliminary season was the unexpected but overwhelming victory over a powerful and undefeated Yale Freshman team, 10-2.

Exeter entered the annual Andover game a slight favorite because although the starting pitcher, Brock, had had little experience, the team was composed of an exceptionally strong infield and a competent outfield. In the first inning the Red and Gray hopes seemed shattered, as the Blue ran up a total of four runs before Brock settled down. Strangely enough, it is said that these runs were the deciding element in Exeter's marvelous comeback and 7-5 victory. Maguire, the Exeter catcher, scored the first run for the Red and Gray in the second inning on a single, a wild throw, and Sullivan's single. The fourth inning, however, was the brightest spot of the day with three Exeter runs being tallied to tie the score. With one out French singled and went to second on a balk. Maguire flied to short, but Gibbs hit over shortstop for a run. He then stole second and took third on a bad throw by O'Neil, the Andover catcher. Sullivan tripled to bring in Gibbs, and Wilson singled to center to score Sullivan. Willis scored in the next inning when he walked, stole second, reached third on a passed ball, and scored on French's grounder to third. French tallied the sixth run in the seventh on his single, a stolen base, and Maguire's single to center field, and Gibbs made the Exeter total seven on a single, a passed ball, and Wilson's single in the eighth. Andover's only other run also came in the eighth when Stevens, a substitute, hit a home run on the first pitched ball. Sullivan was the outstanding player in making several sensational catches at timely moments and accounting for the only three-base hit of the day. Maguire and Murphy also did creditable jobs. Eleven bases were stolen by Exeter, and the team hit safely ten times.

The Dana J. P. Wingate Cup was awarded to George K. Willis, who had been outstanding at second base throughout the year. Charles R. Allen was elected captain for the 1933 season, and Eli G. Gifford, Jr., and John A. Farrell were chosen co-managers for the year. THE PEAN wishes to congratulate Captain Murphy, Coach Murch, and the team as a whole for its hard earned victory.

Basketball

WITH only one letter man returning for the 1933 basketball season, Coach Pearson and his assistants were faced with the difficult task of turning out a team equal to those teams of former years. They succeeded, however, by producing the most powerful team in Exeter basketball history. Starting the season with decisive victories over Tilton, Huntington, and Governor Dummer, the team faced its first difficult game, St. John's Prep., undefeated in six games. Although the game was hard played and close, the Red and Gray won the victory by a score of 45-32. The next game was against one of the most powerful Harvard Freshmen teams in recent years, suffering defeats only at the hands of Exeter and the Yale Freshmen. After being behind at half-time, the fighting Exonians came through to win, 40-24. Having defeated a previously unbeaten New Hampshire team, the team romped through her last two preliminary games, beating Worcester and Hebron.

On the day of the Andover game, Exeter was the decided favorite, because of its clean slate and its victory over the Harvard Freshmen, who, on two previous occasions, had defeated Andover. In an Exeter-Andover game, however, being the favorite means little, for in 1931-32 Exeter, the pre-game favorite, was beaten by the Blue. The game started slowly, and at half-time the score stood 11-6 in favor of the Red and Gray. The situation changed in the third period, for the Exonians scored sixteen points to their opponents' three. It appeared like an easy victory for Exeter, but the fighting Blue, led by Captain Kellogg, came back to score eleven points against two for Exeter in the last period. Andover, however, did not have the power or the time to overtake the Red and Gray and the game ended with Exeter leading, 29-20.

Coach Pearson, his assistants, and the team, led by Captain Beckwith, deserve much praise for their wonderful showing throughout the season.

F. E. Wilson and J. F. Seagraves, Jr., were elected captain and manager respectively for the coming season.

Hockey

WITH only two "E" men returning for the 1933 season, and both of them goal guards, Coach Rogers was faced with the difficult task of assembling another of his powerful teams. Starting the season with a tie with the New Hampshire Freshmen, it defeated a good New Hampton team by a score of 4-1. Following those two games, the Red and Gray met its first and only defeat of the season. The Harvard Freshmen, who went through the entire season undefeated, eked out a 3-1 decision over the fighting Exonians. Avenging itself of this defeat, the team swamped Governor Dummer in the last preliminary game of the season by a score of 6-0.

Since Andover, on account of the lack of ice, had played no games before the meeting with Exeter, the Red and Gray ruled a strong pre-game favorite. At the end of a hard fought first period, the Exonians were leading by the small margin of one goal. In the last periods, however, Kidd, with the cooperation of the team, scored three goals, making the score at the end of the game 4-0 in favor of the Red and Gray. Coach Rogers, Captain Miller, and the team deserve much credit for defeating Andover for the seventh consecutive time.

J. W. Savage and H. F. Shute were elected captain and manager respectively for the coming year.

Swimming

THE 1933 swimming season brought forth the most powerful swimming team in Exeter's history as it completed the season undefeated and gained the New England Interscholastic Championship title for Exeter for the first time. With eight returning letter men as a nucleus with which to work, Coach McNamara, with four newcomers and two of last year's All-Class team, formed a team which swept all competition aside as it flashed through to victory in every meet, strong in every event but one. Hendrie, F. Moorman, M. Moorman, and Colony starred for Exeter particularly in the past season. Records fell in the backstroke, 100-yard dash, and both relays, a new New England Interscholastic mark being set in the medley relay, and the 50-yard record was tied.

The first meet of the season was held in the Thompson pool with the Roxbury Division of the Boston Boys' Club, who were decisively defeated 41-24. The following Saturday saw Gardner High School, former New England champions, go down to defeat to the tune of 35-30. The next opponent, Huntington school, proved somewhat weaker, and the result saw Exeter again victorious, this time with the score of 40-20. Continuing on their way Exeter next swamped the M. I. T. Freshmen by gaining the highest possible number of points in a meet, the largest number ever amassed by an Exeter swimming team. The score was 59-6. Worcester Academy, which came next and which, it was predicted, would be the hardest struggle of the season excluding Andover, was triumphed over with a 40-25 tally. In the last preliminary meet Exeter again maintained an untarnished record by vanquishing the Charlestown Boys' Club 40-25.

Exeter entered the eleventh Andover dual meet a slight favorite and did not disappoint her well-wishers as she literally flashed through to a decisive 35-30 victory in a brilliant, record-shattering meet. The meet was decided by Exeter's star quartet in the 200-yard relay, in a meet replete with thrills and with four record-breaking performances.

Nathaniel A. Lemke was elected captain and Richard M. Howland chosen manager of the 1934 team.

Crew

VICTORIES over Middlesex by the first boat, and over Tabor by the first and second shells were the bright spots of the otherwise inconspicuous 1932 season. Coaches Benton and Curwen formed their crews from a squad containing three letter men, two of these being coxswains. The first boat was made up of Captain Henderson, Keppel, Belknap, Miller, and E. T. White as coxswains. Hunter, Tufts, Shepard, and LeRoy rowed the second boat, with Linscott as cox.

The first boat lost its race with Pomfret, at Pomfret Center, by one and a half lengths. A change in the seatings, placing Miller at stroke, seemed to benefit the crew in its race against Tabor, which it won by three quarters of a length. In this race, a new course record of two minutes and forty-three seconds was established. Rowing over a course which was longer than usual, Exeter was easily overcome by Noble and Greenough on the Charles River, by two and a half lengths. The letter race with Middlesex was held on the Squamscott River. Exeter led from the half-way flag, but had to meet a final sprint by Middlesex which made the margin of victory only a deck length. This was the sixth consecutive victory of Exeter over Middlesex.

The second boat rowed to a tie with Pomfret, won from Tabor by two feet, and lost to Noble and Greenough by half a length. In an exciting race with Middlesex, the Exeter seconds led until only a few feet from the finish, when Middlesex was able to forge ahead.

C. P. LeRoy, Jr., was elected captain for 1933 and J. Schureman was elected manager.

Tennis

LAST year the Academy tennis team experienced one of the best seasons that Exeter has ever known. Aided by the return of four letter men, besides several who had played on the All-Class team the previous year, Coach Rogers built up an extremely powerful squad which went through an undefeated season. Even the strong Harvard Freshmen were downed, 5-4, and Andover was hard-pressed to obtain three matches.

In the preliminary season Exeter defeated Arlington, New Preparatory, Bowdoin Junior Varsity, Hebron, M. I. T. Freshmen, Brown Freshmen, New Hampton, Tufts Freshmen, St. John's, St. Paul's, and Newton with the loss of only four individual matches. In this period Marx, number three, and Whitman, number six, were both undefeated.

The Red and Gray was the overwhelming favorite to conquer Andover in the annual match, and by winning six to three she won for the third consecutive year from her ancient rivals. Lawson and Marx lost their singles matches, but through the excellent playing of Glidden, Negley, Jones, and Whitman Exeter had an advantage of four matches to two in the singles. Lawson and Whitman lost their doubles match. Victories by the other two combinations, Glidden and Jones and Negley and Marx, however, made Exeter's victory a decisive one. By winning their match Glidden and Jones remained undefeated in two years of doubles play. Whitman was not beaten throughout the season, and Negley ended three years of play in Andover matches without a defeat.

Since no letter men returned to this year's team, it is impossible to say what kind of a season it will have.

P. J. Culver is manager.

Golf

WITH four letter men returning to form the nucleus for the 1932 golf team, prospects for a successful season were excellent. The veterans, Captain Freeman, Warren, Wilson and Wise, succeeded in forming a powerful aggregation, with the able support of Parker and Porter, members of the All-Class team of the previous year. The competition for the last position on the team was so keen that Moore and Goodwin were awarded letters at the conclusion of the season.

Aided especially by the stellar playing of Wise and Parker, Exeter had little difficulty in winning all the matches, including impressive victories over St. Paul's School and the Harvard Freshmen, and culminating the season with a decisive victory over Andover, played on the difficult Haverhill course, with the score of 6 to 3. Coach Crosbie, Captain Freeman and Manager Rogers are to be congratulated for their highly successful season.

Robert B. Parker was elected captain for 1933, and Crawford R. Ferguson was chosen manager.

Soccer

ALTHOUGH Soccer is a comparatively new sport at Exeter, and has not yet received the full interest of the student body, Coaches Rickard, Galt, and Hogg succeeded in developing a powerful team. It did not, however, hit its stride until late in the season. Starting the year with a victory over New Hampton, it met successive defeats at the hands of Quincy, Worcester, and Harvard Freshmen. Following those three defeats, the mighty Quincy aggregation definitely proved its superiority over the Red and Gray by defeating it a second time. After four consecutive defeats, the team broke out of the slump, defeating a good M. I. T. Freshman team, and then trouncing Tilton.

On the day of the Andover game, hopes for victory were far from high, for Andover brought a hitherto unscored upon team to the fray. The fact that it was raining, making the field a veritable mud-hole, dampened the spirits of Exeter even more. After a terrific battle, the game ended with the score tied, one to one. The fighting Exonians had not only scored the first goal that any Exeter soccer team has scored on Andover, but also had ruined the record of one of the best teams in Andover history.

The three coaches, Captain Parsons, and the team deserve warm praise for their fight against the many handicaps they suffered during the season, and for their noteworthy battle against the Blue.

J. O. Wilson and R. W. Little were elected captain and manager respectively for the 1933 season.

Squash

THE end of the winter term brought the second year of squash racquets to a close. The team, although it won only four of the eleven matches with other schools, was really very strong, and it made an excellent showing in the majority of the contests. Much credit is due Mr. Bennett, the coach, not only for building up an efficient varsity, but also for getting class squash started. The three upper classes were each represented by a team, and at the end of the season an all-class team was also organized.

The eight Thompson squash courts were in constant use throughout the winter term, and squash may certainly be said to have enjoyed a very successful season.

Robert F. Townsend and Frederick A. Dexter were elected captain and manager respectively for next year.

Wrestling

WRESTLING for a sport still in its infancy at the Academy, enjoyed a most successful season this year. Under the direction of Mr. Pearson, a tournament was held and medals awarded the winner and runner-up in each weight class. Two matches were arranged with Governor Dummer, and the Exeter grapplers came off well in both, as is shown by the scores given below. It is to be hoped that wrestling will in the near future join the ranks of the recognized sports at Exeter. Mr. Pearson and those who lent their efforts to the cause of installing wrestling in the Academy are to be congratulated on the success of their labors.

Goings on About Exeter

ENTERTAINMENT

(Unless otherwise noted, classes begin at 8.00 A. M., and go to 1.00 P. M., and from 4.30 to 6.30 P. M.)

* Better bring textbooks, but not obligatory.

MORNING CHAPEL (7.45 A. M.) Plenty of chances to study, with occasional good music.

* ROOM 18 (Academy Building) Lively instruction in Caesar, Ovid, Cicero, and other well-known Roman authors. Better leave the children at home.

ROOM 21 (Phillips Hall) Loud and slightly risqué entertainment. Not for children under eighteen.

LABORATORY (Science Building) Interesting scientific experiments, livened by jokes (for those who haven't heard them before).

AFTER-CLASS ENTERTAINMENT

* P. E. A. GRILL (opposite Hoyt) Good food, at rock-bottom prices. Floor show by Charlie and Nat.

* RED & GRAY (behind Peabody) Nice Bohemian atmosphere.

* BILL'S SODA SPA (opposite Anderson) Food that the kiddies will enjoy. Two slot-machines for your extra nickels.

* TOZIER'S (beside Squamscott Hotel) Nice, clean, well-run place, with swell food; if you feel like walking.

BUTT-ROOMS (in all dorms except Dunbar) Congenial atmosphere, and in some cases an opportunity for a good fast game of Ping-Pong. Bridge for non-athletes.

* no beer

MOVING PICTURES

IOKA THEATRE (Water Street) For rainy Wednesday afternoons, if you like a peanut ridden atmosphere.

THOMPSON GYMNASIUM (at 7.00 o'clock on Saturday nights only) The best and latest pictures, with amusing curtain-announcements.

ART

DAVIS LIBRARY (8.00-1.00; 2.00-9.00 P. M.) Exhibition of contemporary talent, local and otherwise.

MERRILLS, NORTH AND SOUTH (dining halls) Picturesque and scenic works of modern Americans, also acting as a much-needed aid to digestion.

SPORTS

THOMPSON GYMNASIUM AND PLAYING FIELDS Athletic events every Wednesday and Saturday, with an occasional glance at the four New England championship teams, in spite of the depression.

OTHER EVENTS

LECTURES (in the Chapel, Town Hall, or Lantern Club) Interesting and instructive talks, bringing Exeter into contact with civilization.

SWASEY PARKWAY (after dark) Opportunity for a pleasant evening on the banks of the moonlit Squamscott.

COLLEGE BOARDS (Thompson Gymnasium) June 19-24. Plenty of chance to show all you have learned during the year. Results about July 9th, in case you have any morbid interest in such things.

JUNE BALL (Thompson Gymnasium, June 26, 9 P. M.-2 A. M.) Good music, and charming partners. The big social affair of the season.

GRADUATION (June 27, for those who are interested) By far the merriest event of the year. Don't miss it.

The Phillips Exeter Academy

INCORPORATED APRIL 3, 1781

FORMALLY OPENED MAY 1, 1783

THE ACADEMY offers instruction in all studies required for admission to the leading colleges and scientific schools.

FOR ADMISSION to the Junior Class, an examination is required in English, American History, and Arithmetic. Candidates for admission to other classes must satisfy the Principal of their fitness, either by examination or by school certificate.

IN GENERAL, students go every year from Exeter to Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Dartmouth, and many other colleges, universities and technical schools.

DIPLOMAS are given to students who honorably complete the course.

THE TUITION is $350 a year. About fourteen thousand dollars is divided annually among good scholars of high character, but slender means.

EXAMINATIONS of the College Entrance Examination Board are held annually in June at the Academy.

FIFTEENTH SUMMER SESSION

JULY 11—SEPTEMBER 1

Credit is given toward graduation from the Academy for courses carried successfully in the Summer Session, and new students are admitted for the Fall Term upon recommendation of the faculty of the Summer Session.

Over forty courses are offered in Latin, Greek, Mathematics, English, French, German, Spanish, History, Science, and Music.

The students are given an opportunity for surf-bathing about twice a week, and there are other excursions. The sports are tennis, swimming, canoeing, rowing, golf, baseball and track athletics. The swimming pool in the Thompson Gymnasium is open in the afternoon of every week-day.

The charge for the Summer Session is $300, covering a furnished room, board, tuition, excursions and sports.

For admission, apply to the Chairman of the Summer Session Faculty.

NOT MERELY A DIFFERENT BRAND

A Different Kind of Gum

Take the Beech-Nut flavor for example—pressed from tender, green mint leaves grown under sunny skies and selected for ripe luscious flavor. No wonder Beech-Nut Gum tastes better—so cool and refreshing. Every stick of Beech-Nut Gum has this delightful flavor—and every stick will show how much more enjoyable the Beech-Nut kind of gum really is. Blended with nature's choice chicle, this carefully selected mint flavor makes the most satisfying gum you ever tasted. Look for the familiar yellow label and the name Beech-Nut Gum.

A Grave Situation

You may never stumble over a ghost—but you can't deny that darkness has its very real perils! You never know when you'll need a flashlight... perhaps this very night. Keep yours loaded—ready for instant use—with long-life Eveready Flashlight Batteries.

You're sure your flashlight will work when you need it—if it's loaded with Evereadys! Because the power-making ingredients in Eveready Batteries have more strength and last longer. Then, too, the all-armored construction and metal top prevent the power from leaking away when the batteries aren't in use! Fill up your flashlight with long-working Evereadys today. Only 10¢ each. All good stores carry a complete line of Eveready Flashlights and Batteries.
